For those of you that took the time to attend Karen Homan's talk on Thursday, June 26th, in the parish hall, you were treated to a presentation of how God is working in her life. God has called her to do many things for His Kingdom, through the workings of Holy Spirit and she has accepted this ministry. Through the Do-Good Restaurant, which God called her to build, many lives have been changed and people are coming back to the church. Volunteers that work in the restaurant, have testified to how they have become closer to God. There are over 300 volunteers that donate their time and talents to serve God in this capacity. One lady even drives from Lima to help as needed. One of the times that I stopped there to eat, I talked to a white haired, elderly bar tender who volunteers his time on Tuesday and Thursday nights to help the restaurant raise money for needy families. Karen and all of those volunteers that give of their time and talent, reminds me of the Gospel reading for this weekend. Jesus sends out his disciples to evangelize and He tells them, "The harvest is plenty but the laborers are few. Behold I am sending you like lambs among wolves." Like the disciples, Karen, and the volunteers, we are all called to go out and make a difference in people's lives. Whether it's working in a soup kitchen, helping to build houses for Habitat, or just visiting a neighbor that needs companionship or someone to talk to. But as we do these things for others, let us do it in a charitable way. And if you have a chance, let them know how Jesus is the center of your life. By being a witness to your life with Jesus, you will make Satan run for cover. After the disciples came back from talking about Jesus to others, Jesus told them that "He observed Satan falling like lightning from the sky." Brothers and sisters, let us be those laborers in God's vineyard and we too can hear the words that Jesus told His disciples upon their return. "Rejoice because your names will be written in Heaven."

God bless all of you and have a great, Christ filled weekend.

FOR A CCD STUDENT
HERE AT ST. JOHN'S

Your Sponsorship Could Help a Child Come to Know the Word of the Lord!

The hope is for each student in grades 5-8 to receive their own Bible to use in their religion studies, and to keep as their own, so they may foster a love for the Word of God that grows with them. To make this fruitful, your help is needed! Would you like to contribute a monetary donation to sponsor a bible for a child? (One bible cost $34.) If you'd like to sponsor a child with a bible, please fill out your name and address below, and drop this form off, along with your donation, in the collection basket or to the rectory. After school starts, you will be given the name of the child you are sponsoring and a note from them in return. We would also ask for you to pray for the child, as they will be encouraged to pray for you as well. If you have any questions, please contact St. John's Religious Education Department at 419.538.6897. God bless you!

INITIATION OF ADULTS INTO THE CATHOLIC FAITH (RCIA/OCIA)

Is a journey through which interested adults and older children are welcomed and gradually introduced to the Roman Catholic Faith, Sacraments, Worship and way of life. In response to their inquiries, these people are properly instructed so that you can discern (through reflection and prayer) whether you are indeed called to Catholicism. If you would like more information or want to register please contact the Parish Office. The next session will start in the fall.

4th of July: Freedom of Religion

As we embark on the weekend's celebrations of the 4th of July, let's take a moment to reflect on what it commemorates. The Declaration of Independence, which was issued July 4, 1776, and asserted the right of the 13 colonies to govern themselves in the "first freedoms": freedom of religion, free speech, freedom of assembly, freedom of the press, and the freedom to petition.

So what does religion of freedom mean for Catholics? The United States Conference of Catholic Bishops article "Let's Talk About Religious Freedom" from their website explains it well:

Our Catholic tradition has much to offer in the conversation of Religious Freedom. In this time of increasing polarization in our culture, we can contribute to a better understanding of this issue in a way that respects all people. We can speak with friends and neighbors about religious freedom and work to clear up misconceptions about it.

1. Respect Many religious freedom skeptics have plausible concerns. For example, they are concerned that all people should be treated with equal dignity. Indeed, the dignity of all people is the foundation for Catholic teaching on religious liberty. It is important that we not dismiss skeptics, but rather, that we listen to their concerns and take them seriously. So, if the skeptics have a point, what do we say?

2. A Fundamental Right Religious freedom is a fundamental right. It means that the government cannot coerce people into acting against their consciences. This is important for all people, not just people of faith. A government that makes one group choose obedience to the state over obedience to faith and conscience can force any group to submit to the state's demands. Religious freedom protects everyone.

3. Space to Do Good People of faith need religious freedom to have the space to serve others. Oftentimes, religious liberty disputes arise when religious organizations are expected to sacrifice aspects of their faith in order to continue to serve the surrounding community. But it is our faith that in-spires us to serve. Challenges to religious freedom often come from a mistaken view of religion, a view that sees religion as good only if it conforms to every value that happens to prevail today. However, the good that religious institutions do is inseparable from the parts that challenge prevailing norms. Religious convictions hang together, in and out of season. When faith groups violate their consciences, they undermine the whole mission of their ministry.

4. Authentic Pluralism Skeptics are often concerned about the effects that religious organizations have on people who do not share those religious beliefs. Skeptics tend to see a conflict between religious freedom and their vision of equality and choose a mistaken concept of equality over freedom. Here are points to consider:

A pluralistic society makes space for people who hold views that run counter to the mainstream. Religious groups, and groups formed around a particular set of principles, need to be able to express their views with integrity. Should an animal rights organization be required by law to hire a member of a hunting association? Of course not. Then, for example, neither should a religious organization be required to hire people who oppose the teachings of that religion. It is crucial that our society not adopt the view that all groups – least of all religious groups -- must conform to one view. True freedom results in a diversity that strengthens, rather than weakens, society.

Above all, the Church seeks to offer a better way. Catholic teaching is holistic, rooted in the dignity of the person, a dignity that is visible to reason yet made more clear by the light of the gospel of Jesus Christ. We are not simply asking for freedom from coercion so that we can be left alone. We believe that what we teach - about marriage, sex, family life, care for refugees, care for the poor, care for the sick, care for all vulnerable – is good for society. When we see a culture that is often un-loving and hostile to life, we work to bear witness to a healthier culture, a "civilization of love," in which all people can flourish.

5. Own It When we engage in conversation as Catholics, people want to know what we think. It's good to represent the Church and the beauty of her teachings; it's even better when we internalize those teachings and reflect on our own experiences and reasons for caring about religious freedom.

July prayer for Precious Blood vocations

Lord God, In Jesus Christ, you shared with us the eternal Word! He took up his cross for our salvation and invited us to take up the cross and follow him. He shared the cup of his Precious Blood with his disciples and shares it with us each time we gather for Eucharist.

Help us to share in his mission, to proclaim the Good News of our salvation to all the world. Help us to share in his life as we live out our faith each day. Give us his Spirit now and always. We ask this in the name of Jesus the Lord. Amen.

Blood of Christ: Hope of the World
Prayer for the 2025 General Assembly of the Missionaries of the Precious Blood

Compassionate God, we give you thanks and praise for your wonderful, yet suffering creation, as we share the healing and reconciling presence of the Precious Blood of Jesus, your Son.

Open our eyes and enlighten our hearts so that we may know what is the hope to which You have called us, the hope that does not disappoint.

Reawaken our desire and commitment to serve Your holy people as we journey together, fellow pilgrims on the Way of Your Kingdom.

May the wisdom and anointing of your Holy Spirit rain down upon us as we discover visionary commitments and leaders, who in the spirit of Saint Gaspar and Blessed Giovanni Merlini, will empower our congregation to be a dynamic force for renewal in the Church.

As we raise the cup of salvation, and call upon Your name, may we then pour out our lives each day to advance that "new order of things that Christ brought about in the shedding of his Precious Blood."

Amen.

Labourers in the Harvest

Luke 10:1-12, 17-20

I am sending you out as lambs in the midst of wolves.

In today's Gospel reading, Jesus sends out seventy-two disciples to tell the people in the towns that He is coming, and to heal the sick. He tells them that they should pray to the Lord of the harvest to send out labourers into his harvest.

Jesus compares the souls of the people to a harvest. He needs people who will go out into the world and gather the souls for Him, and tells the people that they should pray that God will send out these labourers. Do you know who these people are? They are the priests and other missionaries who work to bring people to Jesus.

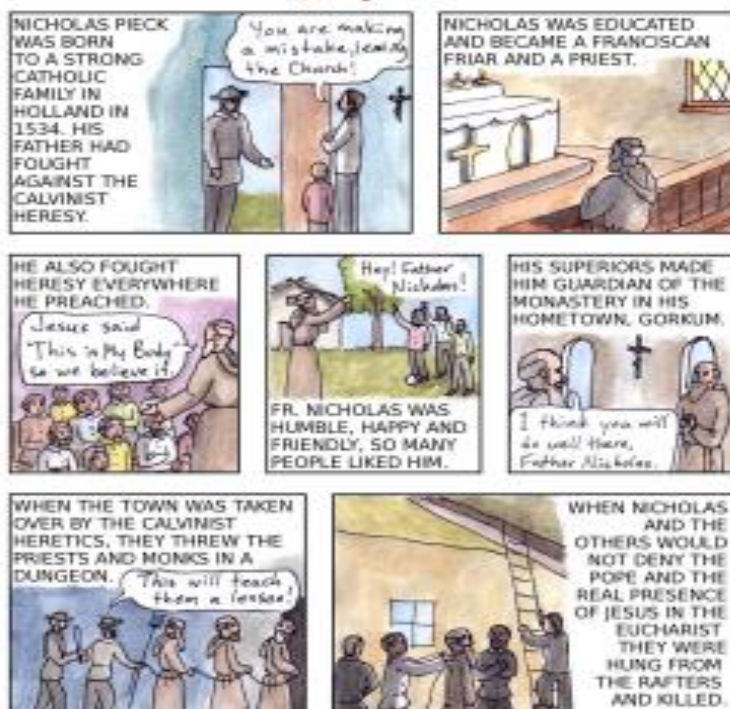

Do you think that God might be calling you to be a labourer in the harvest of souls? Pray every day that you will know how you can best serve God. Also pray that God will send many holy priests and missionaries into the world.
