The Month of July is dedicated to the Precious Blood of Jesus

If you know of anyone who cannot attend Mass on Sundays and would like communion brought to them please call the rectory.

Are there people you know who you would like to encourage to think about a religious vocation? What would people think if you became a priest/brother/sister? (Mark 6:1-6)

For people discerning a call to priesthood or the consecrated life that they may have the support and encouragement they need, we pray.

JULY 8, 2018

FOURTEENTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

In today's gospel Jesus is in his hometown area. But Jesus' friends and people he knows takes offense at Christ's words. Jesus says, "A prophet is not without honor except in his native home place." Jesus is amazed at the people's lack of faith. The people in Jesus' hometown will not accept his message and will not accept his healing power. Jesus did heal some in his hometown but not many. There comes a point and time when we have to trust Christ and we have to trust the people he sends in his name. God can speak through all people. He can speak through children, young people, and adults. He can speak through the learned and the people who do not have degrees. It is my belief that we can tell when heavenly wisdom is being spoken to us. Sometimes we get the hair on the back of our neck to stand up when people are speaking to us. This may be an indication that God is speaking to you. Let us not be stiff necked and unwilling to listen to the prophets in our midst. Over time you will be able to tell if someone is speaking God's truth to you. I hope you had a great Fourth of July. We all need time to relax and be with family and friends. Thank you so much for your invitations to visit you and your families. I really appreciate getting out of the rectory and being with you all. God bless you all. Fr. Tony
