Desk of
Fr. Tony

OCTOBER 28, 2018
30th Sunday in Ordinary Time

Today Jesus heals Bartimaeus, the blind man who used to beg along the roadside. Bartimaeus kept calling out to Jesus by saying, "Jesus son of David have pity on me." Jesus asked Bartimaeus what he wanted and Bartimaeus said that, "I want to see." Jesus healed Bartimaeus and his eyesight returned to him.

What is blinding us? What is keeping us from enjoying the Christian life? Is there something that annoys you about Christianity? If there is what is it and why is it annoying or bothersome? Please take time this week and pray to God about what annoys you about the Christian life. Many times we are blinded by our own selfishness. Many times people are annoyed with Christian teaching because it involves self-discipline. Discipleship is taken from the word discipline. It is not easy following the Christian life but when one commits oneself to this life there is true freedom and peace. Look at the martyrs who gave their life for the name of Christ. They died peacefully even in the face of harsh treatment. Jesus is the way, the truth, and the life. Don't let your selfishness blind you anymore.

God bless you all. Fr. Tony
